Engage in Eternity's Mission Today

It's that time of year again. As I write this, outside of my office there are the sounds of children's laughter, footsteps, chatter, and the adults that are caring for their needs. I love VBS.

It is easy to look at VBS and get so caught up in the presentation, decorations, music, demand of manpower, and so much more that we forget what a profound spiritual opportunity that the church has every year this week. Whether these are Fellowship kids or community kids that are at Fellowship, church family, we have a stewardship that God has laid before us.

We are all stewards entrusted with a labor. No matter where you go, you have a mission. Today, you are on a "mission trip." God maybe only take you to work today, but there is a greater labor to which you have been called.

As the noise of VBS rings out on Fellowship's campus, I am reminded that this is the shortest mission trip we will ever take! The mission has come to us. VBS is not daycare. It is not a show. It is God sharing his light with a generation of children who are in the crosshairs of the enemy. How are you part of the fight for their souls? Do you encourage them? Do you welcome them? Do you know their names? Do you pray for them? Are you engaged in the mission to one day see them in eternity with Christ?

It is with a heart of gratitude that I write these words: I love our church family and am so proud of the labor of love that so many of you take head-on. I have often heard the phrase "It takes a village," but I prefer, "It takes a fellowship." The church is the best thing going! May God continue to do much through His church.
